

Unanimes !* – Composition competition

General regulations

Unanimes! is a nation-wide event dedicated to the promotion of women composers and their repertoire. It will take place throughout the 2023-2024 season and involve all 42 orchestras member of the French Orchestra Association (AFO) as well as a vast network of partners. 3 distinct actions will take place: the certification of works by women composers, programmed throughout the year; a mentorship program for young composers; and a composition competition.

Support today's women composers

Works written by today's women composers are tomorrow's heritage. However, women are often in minority in composition competitions. Supporting today's women composers means giving them the necessary visibility, be it from other artists, music professionals or a broader audience, to become integral parts of the musical landscape.

The goal of the Unanimes! composition competition is to partake in the advent of a more diverse symphonic repertoire.

General dispositions

1. Applicant's profile

The competition is open to women composers who are citizens or legal residents of the European Union, over 18 years old.

2. Application

The registration is done in two steps:

1. Pre-registration

When registering, the candidate must specify the category or categories (chamber or symphonic orchestra) in which she wants to participate.

The application file must include the following documents:

- Copy of an official, valid identity card or passport (.jpg or .pdf format)
- A proof of residency in the European Union (for candidates of non-EU nationalities)
- Resume and biography detailing background, obtained prizes, recent appointments
- 2 recent photos (.jpg or .png format)
- 1 cover letter

The candidates must submit their application on Muvac (<https://www.muvac.com/vac/association-francaise-des-orchestres-26b5436>) up until September, 29th 2023.

Acceptance of the general regulations is mandatory during the application process.

The candidates will receive an e-mail to confirm the receipt of their application.

The non-governmental documents must imperatively be written in one of the two official languages of the competition (English or French).

Only registrations which are complete and comply to all criteria mentioned above will be accepted.

2. Submission of the scores

The registration will not be final until the score is received; the individual parts are not required.

The candidates must submit their scores to MUVAC by September 30th.

Only finalists will be required to submit the individual parts, by February 1st 2024.

3. Musical pieces

To compose, the candidates may choose between:

- ❖ A symphonic piece in the “chamber orchestra” category

The orchestra headcount must not exceed the following nomenclature. No additional instruments or electroacoustic devices are to be added:

8 first violins, 6 second violins, 4 violas, 4 cellos, 2 double basses
2 flutes (the 2nd of which may play the piccolo), 2 oboes (the 2nd of which may play the cor anglais), 2 clarinets (the 2nd of which may play the bass clarinet), 2 bassoons (the 2nd of which may play the contrabassoon), 2 French horns, 2 trumpets, 1 tympanist.

The piece duration must range between 7 and 10 minutes maximum.

And / or

- ❖ A symphonic piece in the “symphonic orchestra” category

The orchestra headcount must not exceed the following nomenclature. No additional instruments are to be added:

14 first violins, 12 second violins, 10 violas, 8 cellos, 6 double basses, 3 flutes (the third of which may play the piccolo), 3 oboes (the third of which may play the cor anglais), 3 clarinets (the third of which may play the bass clarinet), 3 bassoons (the third of which may play the contrabassoon), 4 French horns, 3 trumpets, 3 trombones (the third of which may play the bass trombone), 1 tuba, 1 harp, 1 tympanist, 3 percussionists.

For each of these categories, the composer must strive to include the maximum instrumental headcount as detailed above.

The piece duration must range between 7 and 10 minutes maximum.

The piece must be written and unedited. This condition is imperative and suspensive.

A candidate may propose a piece for both categories but will only be able to compete in one category after selection by the jury.

The candidates are made aware that the orchestra will offer a maximum of 4 rehearsal services (2,5 hours) and a dress rehearsal to rehearse the piece before the public finals.

The rehearsal schedule will be given to the candidates one month prior.
The work plan will be defined by the conductor after evaluation of the work necessary for each piece.

4. Selection process

– First round

The selection is done via study of the score: the jury will select a maximum of 3 scores in each category. Scores will remain anonymous until announcement of the results of the 1st round, no later than January 15th 2024.

– Selection jury

The jury will comprise one man and one woman composer at the least, as well as the artistic representative of the Orchestre National du Capitole de Toulouse harbouring the competition.

– Public final round or performance of the laureates' work/award ceremony

The composers selected after the first round will send the full extent of their composition via email (between 7 and 10 minutes of music) before February 1st, 2024 at the latest. This condition is imperative and suspensive.

Jury of the final round:

- The 3 members of the selection jury: one man and one woman composer, the artistic representative of the Orchestre National du Capitole de Toulouse;
- 4 musicians of the AFO member orchestras
- 5 representatives of the competition partners
- 3 qualified personalities, including at least two representatives of the general directors of the AFO member orchestras

Under the chairmanship of the Orchestre National du Capitole de Toulouse representative.

Results: Each finalist piece will be performed publicly by the orchestra, in the presence of the jury and of the finalist composers on September 13th, 2024: the jury will decide on the winning piece for each category at the end of the public final.
